Production Location: Los Angeles, CA

I authorize Studio C Artists, Inc. ("Studio C") to use, in whole or in part, my name, likeness, image, voice, biography, interview and performance in connection with all activities taking place, or materials created, in conjunction with all classes, projects, assignments, and related materials (hereafter, simply referred to as 'CLASSWORK'), in all manner and media, as Studio C shall determine in its sole discretion. Studio C and its successors and assignees, shall own all right, title, and interest, including the copyright(s) in and to the work, to be used and disposed of throughout the world in perpetuity without limitation, as Studio C shall determine in its sole discretion.

I understand that from time to time there will be cameras and other recording media in the classroom for the purpose of recording lectures (including student interaction) and student CLASSWORK. If, however, in the course of my CLASSWORK, either before or after the fact, there is material which I do not feel comfortable having recorded, I do have the right to so notify Studio C, and I will not be photographed/recorded for that portion of the class. I understand that recording of the class will continue for the remainder of the CLASSWORK that does not include my specific presentation.

In the event that I wish to notify Studio C of my intentions BEFORE I initiate my CLASSWORK, then I understand that I must verbally notify the instructor in the presence of at least two other people that I would like the camera or similar recording device turned off during my portion of the CLASSWORK. I may also notify the instructor beforehand in writing, stating the following: "I, the undersigned, do not wish to be recorded during the presentation of my individual CLASSWORK on (date of class)," signing and dating the waiver.

In the event that I wish to notify Studio C of my intentions AFTER THE FACT (i.e., after my CLASSWORK has concluded, and I become uncomfortable with the fact that my performance was recorded), then I understand that it is my obligation to notify Studio C in writing within 24 hours that I wish my portion of the CLASSWORK to be deleted, and all rights to material claimed by Studio C, as stated above, only as it relates to me personally, will be waived. I understand that this reversal of rights will only take place after both parties sign an agreement stating such intention to waive rights.

In signing this agreement I acknowledge that I have carefully read and fully understand its content and have elected to sign the agreement of my own free will.
